Thaaksgiving Announcements

Preparations for the community Thanksgiving services at the Forest Theatre on Thursday morning, the 27th, are progressing.

Addresses and prayers will be offered by Rev. S. D. Hutsinpillar, Rev. Emeline Harrington and Rev. F. G. Williams. One of our citizens will read President Wilson's Thanksgiving proclamation. And there will be music and song. Should it rain, the affair will be held at the Methodist Church.

The annual Thanksgiving service of the Christian Science Society, at which testomonies of healing are given, will be held at 11 o'clock Thanksgiving morning. All are welcome

At Arts and Crafts Hall in the evening there is to be an Old Fashioned Party, with games and stints. The old-timers here will be sure to attend, but a special invitation is extended to the new comer and stranger within our gates. Old fashioned costumes should be worn.

Correspondence COURSE in Gregg or Munson Shorthand; Touch Typing. Text books $3.50 Tuition $6.00 per month. Miss Gladys Deal, Carmel Highlands, Carmel.

For Sale 1 Horse-power General Elec. Co. motor; price reasonable. Address "Power," P. O. Box 337, Carmel.

Pine Needles

After a nine years' absence from the Peninsula, Mrs. H. E. Lunger of Sonoma county is paying a visit to her sister, Mrs. A. G. Northup, in Carmel Valley.

Miss Laura Dierssen, who was here for several weeks during the summer, has returned for an indefinite stay, and is occupying a studio cottage.

Rumor of the erection here of a sanitorium are very persistent. A number of people seem to have inside information concerning the project.

You are protected by a $10,000 accident bond when you travel in Carmel Garage Stages We are responsible.—C. O. Goold.

Mrs. Mary A. Kelly, who has been residing in the Laura Turner cottage for some time, has as guest Miss Maude Moore of Portland, Oregon.

Full line of Geo. Sterling's Poems—Carmel News Co.

The foundation and frame work of the McKee residence on San Antonio Avenue between Ninth and Tenth Avenues are in. The location is splendid for the view it affords of sea and shore line.

Frances Cecelia Pudan was awarded an interlocutory decree yesterday by Judge Bardin in her divorce suit against Herbert W. Pudan.—Salinas Index, Nov. 7.

The Aladdin Amusement Agency has been established in San Francisco under the direction of Miss Hattie Mooser. Garnet Holme and Fred Carlisle are identified with the venture.

Argyle Campbell, wife and two boys were recent visitors here. Just now they are residing in Monterey, but expect to move to Carmel in a few weeks.

The November meeting of the Carmel Missionary Society will be under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Steele, at the Presbyterian chapel, 3 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. Friends and strangers are invited.

The interest in the restoration of Carmel Mission is widespread. A number of California newspapers printed last week's Pine Cone story concerning the Mission.

Oliver TYPEWRITER Agency. At Pine Cone office. Terms.

The Willards, who have for a number of years been visiting and renting Carmelites, have purchased the Duffy bungalow for their own home.

Harry Lachman came down from the city Saturday evening for a few days' visit with his mother, Mrs. Mabel Gray Young.

Last Sunday was a beautiful day, especially in mid-afternoon, and scores of Carmelites were out walking—along the improved roadways, and were very favorably impressed.

Paul Parker is now the sole owner of the Salinas Journal, having purchased the interest of Fay McCollum, who has acquired the Coalinga Oil Record.

The Cypress reports $285.77 collected in Monterey toward the Roosevelt Memorial Fund on a quota of $300. Carmel and Pacific Grove exceeded their quotas.

C. W. Duncan came down from the city for a week-end visit with his family. With him came Idwal Jones, literary editor of the Chronicle.

Thomas V. Cator and family of San Jose are here for sevesal months. Mr. Cator is a well-known musician and composer.

"The New Life Current in China," prepared for the interchurch world movement, is the book which the Carmel Study Class is enjoying with Mrs. Kip as instructor on Wednesday afternoons. The book is wonderfully interesting and is made more so by Mrs. Kip, who lived long in China.

Winter bedding, all kinds, at Holman's, Pacific Grove.

A Museum Tea (loan exhibition of objects of interest) for the benefit of Carmel Church, will be held Friday afternoon and evening, November 21, at the Beardsley home. The affair is under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Church League. Those having articles to exhibit please notify Mrs. Beardsley.

Give This a Little Thought

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, about midway between San Francisco and Los Angeles, is the ideal place to spend a few days or weeks or months away from the city's noise turmoil.

Why not own a place in the town of the first California Mission and of the world-famous Forest Theatre?

It is estimated that at the next general election there will be 500 registered voters in Carmelo precinct. For this reason it is probable that County Clerk T. P. Joy will make two precincts here—Carmelo No. 1 and Carmelo No. 2. This, of course, will necessitate two sets of election officers. Registration begins January 2.

SEES OLD WORLD JEWRY IN PERIL

Dr. Cyrus Adler, Jewish Representative at the Peace Conference, Reviews Eastern European Situation.

ECONOMIC RUIN COMPLETE.

Food, Clothing, Medicines and Other of Life's Necessities Must Be Provided by America at Once.

New York.—"The Jews who lived in the zone of war suffered greater hardships, sustained greater losses and have been left in a worse economic condition than any other people of Europe with the possible exception of the Armenians. In some of the regions where the Jews live as many as five armies marched through, each bearing away with it such property as it desired, or needed; and finally the Bolshevists in their wave of power completed the economic ruin of the Jews."

That is the Jewish situation abroad, as seen by Dr. Cyrus Adler, of Philadelphia, one of the most prominent Jewish educators in the country, who was in Europe as a member of the American Jewish delegation to the Peace Conference. He believes that there must be a great deal of economic rehabilitation among his people before they can begin to enjoy the new rights of religious, political and legal equality won for them at Versailles.

"East European Jewry will soon be in a position to help itself, due to the results of the Peace Conference," states Dr. Adler, "but in the critical period that it is passing through now as a result of the European economic and political upheaval, it must receive aid from this country. Food, clothing, medicines—these are the fundamental needs that come before anything else.

"Food must be hurried to the European Jews. I have seen bread that these people were eating, when they could get it, that lookd more like a dung cake than like food. It was composed of ten per cent. rye, ten per cent. wheat and 80 per cent. tree bark for filler.

"Another great need is for the facilitating of individual remittances. In many regions no communications have been possible for five years and fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters have lost all track of their relatives in this country.

"In view of all this situation, the coming Jewish relief campaign is a movement that is worthy of every dollar's worth of support that America can give to it. Withholding of aid by America will spell certain disaster to millions of Jewish men, women and children in Eastern Europe."

WEEKLY GREETING

We make our songs as we must, from fragments of the joy and sorrow of living—Josephine Preston Peabody.

IN HIGH PLACES

By Walt Mason.

I have bought a grand piano and a sumptuous sedan, and a lot of other doodads, on the monthly payment plan. On each thing I paid a dollar, and I'll pay a monthly bone, till I'm laid away and sleeping underneath a sagging stone. It is true I didn't need them, and I haven't coin to burn, but I see my neighbors blowing every kopeck that they earn, and if they can have pianos and fine motors and such stuff, I will go as far as they do, though it makes the sledding tough. Every month I'll pay a dollar on the junk I do not need, till I limp around on crutches and my whiskers go to seed; and when I have crossed the river to the shining golden shore, I will still be owing money to the Jinx installment store. And I fear the recollection will destroy my peace of mind, when I have a harp before me and a pair of wings behind. But my neighbors, they keep blowing every rouble, every red, and I'd be a sort of piker if I let them get ahead; so I'm buying circus wagons, and I'm buying costly gems, and my wife is wearing sables and has diamond diadems, and I bought the whole caboodle on the monthly payment plan, and I'm riding to the poorhouse in a super-eight sedan. —Copyright, 1919. The Mission Carmelo

In an article in "Motor Land," under the heading "Outposts of Civilization," Frank H. Powers writes as follows of Mission Carmelo:

"On Carmel River, sheltered from the northwest trade winds by the intervening Santa Lucia Mountains, in the most wonderful climate the world knows, in a fertile valley watered by the blessed Carmel, was laid the foundation for the first church from which as a nucleus, twenty-one missions of California were subsequently founded.

"Around this church, the various civilizations of California have grown. In this territory six distinct recognized governments have flourished within the span of one hundred and fifty years."

Buying and selling cattle in Union Stock Yards, Chicago. The men in the pens are the ones who must judge each steer and determine what he is worth.

Are the great stock yards of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and elsewhere hotbeds of monopolistic control which succeeds in mulcting the farmer on the one hand, and the consumer who buys meat, on the other hand? This will be one of the questions threshing over in the discussion of the Kenyon bill now before a committee of the Senate.

If these big markets, where millions upon millions of dollars change hands, have any sort of a strangle-hold on our food resources, few there would be who would not say, rout them. Yet equally few, perhaps, could give you any sort of a vivid word-picture of what takes place in these markets through which flows much of our farm wealth.

Separate From Packing Plants.

The "stock yards" are synonymous in the minds of many people with all packingdom. This is error number one. They are operated as corporations wholly distinct from the packing plant companies that cluster around them.

The stock yards perform two functions: they are unloading, feeding and resting stations for live stock; and markets for buying and selling. As buying and selling places, they are among the most interesting spots in the world—places where one may see a nation at its bartering. Huge auction stations where a fraction of a point counts, and counts big.

The Chicago stock yards, as the most notable example, will receive in a day anywhere from 10,000 to 30,000 cattle, not to mention hogs and sheep. These would represent shipments by many farmers. Each farmer puts his cattle into the hands of a commission firm who acts as his agent. The "stock in trade" of the commission firm is a satisfied clientele among the farmers—the better bargainers they are for a long price, the more the farmer is disposed to patronize them.

A Game for Experts.

It is a titanic game, and one for experts. On the one side are arrayed the commission men, and on the other the buyers representing packing concerns, brokers and others. Both sides know their business, which is to say that they know full well what the receipts of the day are and their relation to the requirements, and they know cattle.

The big auction begins. Not from a block, but an auction for all that. Buyers, mounted on ponies, scurry hither and thither, making a bid on one lot here and on another lot there. The commission man will hold the bid in abeyance, dickering for a few points higher price and awaiting the arrival of another man on a pony who may make him a better offer. Every commission man is a competitor of all the other commission men; and every buyer is a competitor of all the other buyers.

We say that all of these men know cattle. A steer is not a standardized commodity. Nature makes him what he is. The contour of his haunches, the build of his body and his make-up in general have everything to do with what he is worth as a beef animal. No one can determine his value but the men in the pens,—the commission men and the buyers.

Buyers Represent Many Firms.

Many think that these cattle are all purchased by the big packers, which is far from being the case. Besides the buyers for the big packers there are always in the Chicago yards from a hundred to a hundred and fifty other buyers on the scene, many of them representing firms that are not located near the stock yards or even in the same city. All told, the large packers do only 44 per cent of the meat animal slaughtering of the entire comtry.

The penalty which awaits the buyer who will not bid up to true values is that the other buyers take the cattle away from him and his firm will be without its requirements. On the other hand the commission men cannot stick it out for an exorbitant price; for the buyers would cut down on the amounts of their purchases. There are some people who will buy meat at any price, but the majority of people reduce their meat purchases precisely as the prices mount upward. The buyers in the stock yards reflect this attitude of the general public almost as accurately as a thermometer indicates the temperature.

The Arena of Supply and Demand.

In other words, the stock yards are the meeting places of two tremendous powers of the economic world,—Supply and Demand. Any one who visits one of these places, even as the most casual observer, and watches what occurs there, will give up any illusion he may have about monopoly or control. Too many buyers and sellers are involved, and judging the value of an individual steer or a pen full of steers is altogether too complicated a matter to cover by any sort of agreement in advance.

The Kenyon bill would make it illegal for any packers to have financial holdings in stock yards corporations. Common sense rightly asks, "Why?" How such holdings, which, where they exist, are nothing more than financial backing of a worthy enterprise, can control the men in the pens who are hired to use their judgment, is too deep to be seen at a glance. The advocates of the bill should be forced to explain. And how a lack of such holdings would prevent control or monopoly, if such things were possible, is another thing which the proponents of the bill should be able to elucidate.
